COTTON.

Bulls Rule in New York.

New York, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Cotton today exhibited a great deal of indecision, but at the close was in the hands of bulls' support again, as for the past several days, based on weather conditions in Texas. Official reports today do not give any rainfall in the dry sections, and another unfavorable feature was the report that the recent short wet spell caused shedding. Crop reports from the west were decidedly unfavorable and this checked bear operations. Otherwise a lack of confidence in present prices is becoming more manifest in the increase in the new crop movement, which is a record of proportions in Texas.

The idea that the market will give way as soon as support by August manipulation in New York is eliminated, seems to be widely held, and only bullish weather can counteract it. Weather conditions in the central belt and Atlantic states continue good and there are but few complaints, and those from isolated localities.

Many Texas points report farmers willing sellers at present prices. On the other hand the trade demand is slow and squeezed in New York, on full and that position sold as high as $16.50 today. Under normal effect such an advance augurs the future market is bound to be sensitive to unfavorable developments, and weather conditions will continue to be the ruling factor, at least until August is out of the way.

New Orleans Higher.
New Orleans, La., Aug. 27.—Cotton opened higher today, fractionally higher on all options but rested quiet. Weather news, aside from the impending squeeze in New York is the dominating factor.

Liverpool Market.
Liverpool, England, Aug. 27.—Cotton was dull in the spot division today, although there was an advance of 9 English points in spots, and the sales aggregated 2000, including 200 bales of American. Futures opened quiet and closed steady, 5 to 9 1/2 points higher.

One Thousand Feet of Track Torn Up By Wreck at 38 Mile Post.

Seven cars were piled up along the right of way and 100 feet of track was torn up Friday at midnight, the result of a freight derailment at the 38 mile post west of El Paso, on the main line of the Southern Railway. No one was injured when the loaded cars left the track. A small wrecker was sent out from El Paso and a large one from Douglas, Ariz., and it was stated at the general offices of the company that the track would be in condition by noon Saturday.

Train No. 5, leaving El Paso at 7:50 a. m. Saturday, was derailed over the Southern Pacific's line to Deming. Train No. 8, due in El Paso at 7:20 a. m. Saturday, arrived as a day coach and a box car, the passengers and mail having been transferred to the stub train, which was sent out from El Paso. The train arrived here at 9:10. The train that was derailed was incoming extra No. 66.

The first train of the Pecos Valley Southern, the new railroad in the valley which bears its name, running from Pecos to Balmorhea, will be run on Monday, August 29, according to a letter from an official of that road to Cecil P. Hostetter, commercial agent of the M. K. C. & O. The train will be a mixed freight and passenger train.

MEXICAN CATTLE DENIED ADMISSION

Local Inspectors Declare That They Had Dangerous Fever Ticks.

Four carloads of cattle destined for Kansas City were held up at this port by officials of the local bureau of animal industry, Friday, and, after examination, were denied admission into the United States because the cattle were infected with fever ticks. The cattle were shipped by Senor Lopez, of Durango.

The presence of fever ticks on cattle passing this port is very unusual, according to Dr. T. A. Bray, the head of the local bureau.

"I remember but four cases like this in the past 15 years," he said. The fever is communicated to cattle through inoculation by the ticks and the government is very careful in its inspection of imported cattle to look for this parasite.

Dr. J. M. Young, who has been stationed at Douglas, Ariz., as an official of the bureau of animal industry, has been transferred to Oklahoma City. Dr. Major Schofield, who has been stationed at that point, will come to El Paso on September 1 to serve as inspector.
